OUR OWN SPY HISTORY

The Scandal: Mr. Smith's (formerly Chadwick's) has been a favorite Bar & Saloon since 1965. Guests come to grab a burger before a movie or to enjoy a late-night beer. But from 1985 to 1994, our current location was used by a CIA counterintelligence officer to exchange information for money, selling out his country, in one of the biggest betrayals in modern American history.

The Agent: Aldrich "Rick" Ames was a former CIA officer turned KGB double agent. As a spy, he revealed more than 100 secret operations, leading to 10 CIA officers being uncovered and executed in Russia. He was caught in 1994 and is now serving a life sentence in prison. Ask us, and we'll show you where the spy meetings took place at Mr. Smith's.

PIANO BAR HISTORY

Mr. Smith's has been the premier Piano Bar in Georgetown since 1965. Did you know we've been the launching pad for music stars, too? We are proud to be the hometown venue for Tori Amos, who started playing with us as a teenager and went on to receive many awards and Grammy nominations.
